The current situation requires changes

A situation such as the one we are experiencing is forcing all companies to adopt new forms of work to carry out social distancing.

One of the most affected sectors is Logistics.

- Avoid approach.
- Remote interaction with carriers.
- Trade all over the world.

Our proposal

We have developed a professional communication platform with real-time translation.

A tool that reduces errors caused by language problems between interlocutors.

Communicate in groups, where all parties involved in the process, report in real time.

Manage requests, delivery of documents and signatures remotely without getting off the truck to the physical entrance to the plant.

Innovate and facilitate Collaborative and efficient work

Online decisions in real time

Without frontiers, it is multi-language

Share documents with
